There are lots of ways to earn money online. We'll be reviewing products and websites that make it easier for you to earn money online.

Here's How to Earn Money Online

When it comes to how to earn money online there are several basic types available that can prove to be quite lucrative. This is not a complete list, by any means. It is more of a 'starting point' to get the ideas flowing. You are really only limited by your imagination because there are subcategories in each type. There are more articles on getting started, building a list, how to start selling affiliate products and more on the right hand side bar.

➔ Earn Money online by providing services Many entrepreneurs prefer to provide a service to their clients as opposed to offering a tangible product line.

It's easy

There is very little overhead, no warehouse to store inventory, or shipping costs.

There is little start-up cost, just a domain and hosting and perhaps a graphic or two to brighten up the website. It's possible to start a service business on virtually no money if you use a free web host like wetpaint.com or a free blogging service like blogger.com.

Examples of these types of services include: freelance writing, web design, search engine optimization and marketing research.

➡ Earn money online selling your own product Gone are the days of marketing to a local customer base. If you happen to have your own product to sell, the Internet conveniently provides you with a global market. No around the world plane ticket, required!

Because savvy Internet shoppers typically expect to pay all shipping costs, it is even possible to be successful if the product you are offering is a big ticket item or items.

Many entrepreneurs offer digital products that they've developed themselves. Don't think that just because the product is promoted through Internet marketing that it has to be about "Internet Marketing" or "how to make money online."

There are lots of e-books, reports, and videos that solve problems, like curing acne, how to play the guitar, getting your ex back, and more.

➡ Earn Money online with affiliate sales (Selling other people's products for a commission.) If you don't have your own product it is still possible to build a profitable, sales-oriented, Internet business. There are literally thousands of affiliate programs that offer a commission to website and/or blog owners who market their products.

These vendors provide interested affiliates with all of that marketing material necessary to successfully promote their product line. This includes: sales copy, product photos and descriptions, banners and the ability to offer current discounts.

➡ Earn money online by selling advertising on your website or blog If you have a website or blog that receives a good deal of traffic, it's time to consider selling advertising space. It can be as simple as posting your advertising rates, onsite or signing up for AdBrite or Google AdSense.

The advertising terms you specify are completely up to you. If you would rather not be faced with the task of making changes, on a frequent basis, you can always opt for selling permanent advertising space.
